

Linas Stulgaitis

Lithuanian health science university (LSMU)

Pharmacists' attitudes towards additional services

To determine pharmacists' opinions about additional services provided at the pharmacy. To analyse the necessity/demand for the range of additional services provided at the pharmacy and to provide a theoretical substantiation for the need for the pharmacy's services that are deemed as necessary by the pharmacists